STRIKING

Please DO NOT make white spaces for glue and striking.

ATTENTION:

Full background takes 3 mm overlap.

Before finishing and saving remove all RED information text and guidelines.

Only text and marks in black should be left.
